SECURING PLAYOFF OFFICIALS

In selection of officials for playoff games, both schools must agree on the officials to be used. The host (home) school (as determined by the coin flip) is responsible for securing the agreed upon officials, making final arrangements with these officials and payment of officials.

When the two schools involved cannot agree on officials, the host school should contact the League office to have officials assigned to the playoff game. Once the UIL office has assigned officials, the schools must accept those officials.

When officials are contacted, the following "check off" list should be used to avoid any misunderstanding on the part of the schools and/or officials.
